WELCOME - Manifestation News!

Hello, I hope everyone is having a great year! You can make this your year!

I am very excited to announce that my second book, The Law of Forgiveness, will be published in November of 2009.

The book will be published by Berkley Books a division of Penguin Books (USA) us.penguin.com. I am represented by book agent Jan Miller of Dupree, Miller and Associates, Dallas TX dupreemiller.com. I feel thankful and blessed by this opportunity!

Well, 2009 is certainly turning out to be an interesting year. It's easy to get caught up in the negative news that streams from the electronic and print media, but did you know that 2009 can be your best year, yet!!! Yes, it is possible that while everyone else is getting caught up in the manufactured news and negative mass consciousness, you can rise above the fray and make this your day! To do this it is important to stay focused in the now. With so much negative news flowing from the TV box, what in the world can you watch that teaches you positive and useful tools? I have learned so much about how to reach a calm "in the now moment" state from an unlikely source. I have learned to do this by watching the show, The Dog Whisperer with Cesar Millan. You may be saying, "What can a show about dogs teach people about people?" Well, I say, "A whole lot."

Cesar says he rehabilitates troubled dogs and trains people. Through understanding "dog psychology" Cesar is able to communicate with dogs and bring them into the now moment and what he calls a "calm submissive state." Once the dogs are in this calm state, they are very easy to work with and they become much better pets with much happier owners. The miraculous thing about his technique is he can bring these dogs into a totally different state of mind and behavior within minutes. Whoever said, "You can't teach an old dog new tricks," hasn't watched Cesar Milan. I noticed that he is using a technique to bring the dogs into the "now moment" in a way that makes them feel safe, secure and quiets their minds. I thought if this can work for a dog, certainly it can work for me, and I started practicing staying in what Cesar calls, "a calm submissive state." For humans this would translate into "a now moment calm state of mind." Of course there are many other ways to accomplish this state, with meditation being one of the most popular. However, some people just need more of an example they can see and relate to reach this state. Learning from human's best friend, the dog, may just be the model they need.

PRIVATE COACHING

I am offering coaching services (in person for the Raleigh area or on the phone for other areas at a 25% discount (both nationally and internationally) at the very affordable rate of $75.00 per hour. Usually in just one to four sessions, (generally lasting one hour each) people are well on their way to feeling more in control and meeting goals.

Through my coaching practice, I have found even problems that seem insurmountable can be addressed through positive techniques, tools and a plan of action. Coaching is a technique based on positive goal setting, education, and tools for success.

I am always amazed by people that tell me they are a really "hard case" and once we analyze their situation and develop a clear plan of action with positive affirmations and tools; they are well on their way to success.

Don't hesitate to buy a gift certificate for a friend or relative you feel may benefit from one-on-one coaching services.
